Dear Mr. Darby:

Enclosed please find a CD of photos for your use however you see fit. Photos 1390-1404 are from Emmitt's ranch since 2008. You will remember that no bulldozers have ever been on the property and every bit of the roads, senderos, brush work and even food plots were created using the Marden aerator. The other photos are from either client ranches or the state-controlled wildlife management area I used to manage when I was Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. I used the Marden aerator and D6 dozer for ten years creating the best possible quail habitat for public hunters using annual donations by both the state and national levels of Quail Unlimited.

As a professional wildlife biologist, I have been using Marden aerators throughout South Texas for the past seventeen years. In my opinion, your aerator is the best invention since the spoon or sliced bread! I use your aerator to create roads, senderos, food plots, rights-of-ways and sculpt the brush exactly how is best suited for any target species of concern. I can produce grass where there is none, create brush mottes as needed for quail hunting, create long and wide senderos for both cattle and deer management and stimulate those all-important forbs for maximum weight gain and antler production each spring. Pulled behind either a rubber tired tractor or a bulldozer, your aerator is easy to navigate and transport and the most effective habitat management tool I know of--thanks for creating such an outstanding product!

Very sincerely,

Macy Ledbetter
